General Background Note

The Habitat III General Assembly of Partners (GAP), a Special Initiative of the World Urban Campaign (WUC),¹ serves as a global partnership platform to develop and advocate for consensus for the outcome document and other matters related to Habitat III. Twelve Partner Constituent Groups constitute its membership. They are composed of the major groups as identified in Agenda 21, Habitat Agenda Partners and other relevant stakeholders.

The World Urban Campaign Steering Committee endorsed the proposal for the Special Initiative at its 11th Steering Committee Meeting Caserta (Italy) on October 15, 2014. It submitted the proposal to the Habitat III Secretary General on November 11, 2014 for his presentation to the Habitat III Bureau.

- The WUC Secretariat drafted the Habitat III General Assembly Constitution and By-Laws in consultation with the WUC Steering Committee Chair, circulated them for comment to the WUC Standing Committee in January 2015.
- The WUC Steering Committee approved the Special Initiative and Constitution and By-Laws on 12 April 2015.
- This Constitution was presented to the first convening of the General Assembly of Partners on 13 April 2015.

Background Note

The World Urban Campaign (WUC), a partnership platform that serves in an advisory capacity to the Executive Director of UN-Habitat, builds on the legacy of the Habitat II Conference held in Istanbul in 1996 where Member States called for partnerships between governments and civil society organizations, local authorities, the private sector, the research community, trade unions, parliamentarians, professional organizations, youth and women groups, in order to achieve sustainable urban development. The Habitat II outcome document, the Habitat Agenda, called on nations to pursue sustainable urban development in partnership with local authorities, civil society organizations, the private sector, the research community, trade unions, parliamentarians, professional organizations and youth and women's groups. By 1999, UN Habitat, as the UN-designated implementing agency of the Habitat Agenda, launched two global campaigns on the themes of secure tenure and good urban governance. In 2009, the Governing Council requested the merging of the two campaigns into a single entity, the World Urban Campaign, focused on implementing a shared vision of sustainable urbanization through mobilizing networks of Habitat Agenda Partners.

The World Urban Campaign Partners have defined their goals as follows:

- To unite: convince public, private and social stakeholders that investing in creative, resilient and sustainable cities and communities are essential to our future.
- To enable: provide the necessary tools to achieve creative, resilient and sustainable cities and communities.
- To measure: establish benchmarks, monitor progress and share knowledge worldwide.
- To connect: create synergies and lasting linkages between stakeholders and facilitate the coherent and strategic coordination of partners.

When UN Habitat officially launched the World Urban Campaign at the 5th session of the World Urban Forum (2010) in Rio de Janeiro, its membership represented by a range of public, private and civil society partners, pledged to support sustainable urbanization by elevating urban policies, sharing tools and best practices, and advocating for the placement of cities at the heart of global development strategies. WUC thereafter undertook several functions: aggregating knowledge in key areas, developing consensus around principles for sustainable urbanization and engaging in advocacy efforts. Next, WUC partners crafted the *Manifesto for Cities -The Urban Future We Want*² a consensus statement underlining the urgency of urbanization and necessity of organizing an inclusive partners' process to address the consequent challenges. They inaugurated the document at 6th session of the World Urban Forum (2012) in Naples. Two years later, WUC partners followed up with a more detailed statement, The Future We Want, The City We Need, launched at the New York City United Nations Headquarters and further discussed at the World Urban Forum 7 in Medellin. Together the two documents represent a solid statement for broadening and deepening the Partners' contributions to the New Urban Agenda, the anticipated outcome document of the Habitat III Conference.

In April 2013, the UN-Habitat Governing Council (Resolution 24/14) requested the Secretary General of Habitat III to support to the preparatory process of the Third United Nations Conference on Housing and Sustainable Urban Development (Habitat III) by strengthening the World Urban Campaign and supporting national urban campaigns. In particular, the Governing Council called upon the Secretary General of the Conference to continue engaging all Habitat Agenda partners and new partners in the World Urban Campaign in order to identify and collect good practices that could contribute to the new urban agenda and to support national urban campaigns and their communication and outreach activities initiated to contribute to national preparations for Habitat III.

Upon the request of the Habitat III Secretary General in order to address the growing needs for partnership engagement in the Habitat III preparations, the WUC Steering Committee held an extraordinary meeting October 15, 2014, in Caserta, Italy. The attendees reviewed and approved a proposal put forward by the WUC Secretariat for a WUC Special Initiative to create a General Assembly of Partners (GAP) composed of Partner Constituent Groups (PCG) to serve as a deliberative body to develop and publicize consensus statement(s) to contribute to the Habitat III Conference. Included in the PCGs are: Local Governments, Research and Academia, Civil Society Organizations, Grass-root Organizations, Women, Parliamentarians, Children and Youth, Private Sector and Foundations, Professionals, Trade Unions and Workers, Farmers, Indigenous People, Media. In endorsing the proposal, the WUC Steering Committee viewed GAP as an innovative effort that not only builds on the legacy of the Habitat II but also promises to strengthen non-member state contributions to Habitat III.

WORLD URBAN CAMPAIGN

I. Constitution

A. Preamble

United around the goal of 'Better City, Better Life', the World Urban Campaign partners believe that the battle for a sustainable future will be won or lost in cities. They have called upon the international community and all public, private and social actors to commit to a New Urban Agenda so as to ensure our sustainable future. This New Urban Agenda will be a global contribution to and one of the outcomes of the Third Conference on Human Settlements (Habitat III).

'The New Urban Agenda requires collaborative approaches based on strong partnerships that foster innovative ways of thinking, new levels of understanding and knowledge. We invite all Habitat Agenda Partners and urban stakeholders to join forces and participate as equal partners in the formulation and adoption of a New Urban Agenda. We commit to work together in the creation of planning frameworks for a sustainable, equitable urban future.

They have also called upon the international community to build upon The Future We Want commitments adopted in Rio de Janeiro³ and to include sustainable urban development as part of future global development goals.

As a Special Initiative of the World Urban Campaign, the General Assembly of Partners is a global deliberative assembly of partners that brings non-governmental partners together in order to contribute to the Habitat III Conference and its preparatory meetings.

This document guides the formation and deliberations of the General Assembly of Partners, to channel their contributions to the Habitat III conference and associated programs.

B. Aim

To create a General Assembly of Partners (GAP) to support partners' engagement and contribution to the Habitat III Conference, in particular to the New Urban Agenda.

C. Objectives

The General Assembly of Partners will fulfil the aim by:

- a. Assembling civil society and non-governmental representatives organized in Partner Constituent Groups to contribute to the Habitat III Conference;
- b. Providing an official channel for stakeholder engagement and collaboration with the Habitat III Conference Bureau, Secretary General and Secretariat,
- c. Developing common positions and enabling collaboration and discussion of shared experiences to facilitate and identify consensus among the representatives about

- sustainable urbanization, and other topics related to Habitat III through participatory deliberative processes;
- d. Elaborating and adopting position statements to contribute to preparations for the Habitat III Conference and the New Urban Agenda;
 - e. Building such statements on antecedent documents including The Future We Want, The City We Need, the future Framework for Post 2015 Development and considering all inputs provided by each Partner Constituent Group and by National Urban Campaigns;
 - f. Advocating for and publicizing any collective position that may emerge during the GAP process to the Habitat III Conference and associated programs via all available channels;
 - g. Creating governance and management arrangements to accomplish the organization's aims and objectives.

D. General Assembly: Membership

Article 1. Members

- a. Voting Members of the General Assembly of Partners
